Crisis and Recovery Center

Our Crisis and Recovery Center is part of Colorado Crisis Services, the statewide behavioral health crisis response system offering mental health, substance use or emotional crisis help, information and referrals. Crisis services are available regardless of one's ability to pay. If an individual has private insurance, a co-payment and other out-of-pocket expenses may be required depending on the plan coverage to your insurance provider. However, no payment is required at the time of service, and no one will be turned away for crisis services, regardless of ability to pay.

Walk-in at: Crisis and Recovery Center, 4643 Wadsworth Blvd, Wheat Ridge, CO 80033

- Walk in Crisis Center: Open 24/7 and 365 days a year, the walk-in crisis center offers confidential, in-person crisis support, information and referrals to anyone in need.
- Mobile Crisis Team: Crisis counselors are dispatched to respond throughout Jefferson, Gilpin and Clear Creek Counties, to help de-escalate, provide support and direct individuals in crisis to the right level of care. This often prevents arrest and/or hospitalization.
- The Living Room: The Living Room is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and provides a place where clients in crisis can rest and relax on couches, recliners, or chairs; watch television or read magazines or books for up to 23 hours. Following an assessment at the Crisis Walk-in Center, clients may be referred to the the Living Room to receive a longer episode of support. Following the 23-hour observation period, clients can be admitted to the Teller Place facility, or return home with supportive services.

Teller Place Hospital Alternative Facility

Teller Place offers a comprehensive 24-hour acute care residential program that is an effective alternative to inpatient psychiatric hospitals or other hospital settings. The program is designed to allow individuals to receive intensive counseling and stabilization without having to stay overnight in a psychiatric hospital. This is a short-term stabilization option, where clients can stay for up to one week.
